

CLIENT ALERT

DoD's Joint Artificial Intelligence Center Seeks Tools to Test Artificial Intelligence

April 27, 2020

Consistent with the U.S. Department of Defense's (DoD) Artificial Intelligence (AI) Strategy, as we previously reported on here, on April 13, 2020, DOD published a Request for Information (RFI) requesting assistance from academia and industry with the development and planning of a potential new requirement for DOD's Joint Artificial Intelligence Center's (JAIC) Testing & Evaluation (T&E) office. DOD seeks industry assistance with and provision of various AI-technology and tools, testing and evaluation services, and any other technologies not specifically identified in the RFI. Interested parties are encouraged to submit white papers by 10:00 AM CST on May 12, 2020. To read more about this opportunity, please read our blog post here.
