

CLIENT ALERT

EEO-1 Deadline Extended to May 31, 2019

Feb.05.2019

Employers will have a little more time to file their EEO-1 reports this year. Due to a delay caused by the partial government shutdown in January, the EEOC's EEO-1 online system will not be available until "early March" according to a notice on the EEO-1 website. As a result, the EEOC is extending the deadline for employers to file their 2018 EEO-1 Reports from March 31, 2019 to May 31, 2019. The EEOC notes that further details and filing instructions for the 2018 EEO-1 Report will be forthcoming in "the coming weeks." We will send out any further updates as they become available.
