PODCAST: Key IP Issues That Should be Addressed by the New Administration — C&M’s First 100 Days Series

January 12, 2017

As part of Crowell & Moring’s “First 100 Days” series, Mike Songer and Terry Rea sit down to discuss the key intellectual property issues that should be addressed by the new administration. Mike is co-chair of the firm’s Intellectual Property Group; Terry is a partner and previously served as acting director and deputy director of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Discussed in this 21 minute podcast:

- President-elect Trump, IP law, and economic growth.
- Improving quality of the patent process.
- How Congress might deal with patents and more.
- What in-house counsel should be thinking about.
