

Colorado Hispanic Bar Association Recognizes Crowell & Moring's Amber Gonzales as Outstanding New Hispanic Lawyer

Denver – October 21, 2022: The Colorado Hispanic Bar Association has named Crowell & Moring's Amber Gonzales as an Outstanding New Hispanic Lawyer. The award was presented at the CHBA's Annual Banquet on August 20 at the Denver Botanic Gardens.

Gonzales is the incoming president of CHBA, having served on its board of directors for the last six years. Her community involvement also extends to representing clients on a variety of pro bono matters, including drafting position statements and litigation resulting from the denial of requests under the Freedom of Information Act.

Gonzales is an associate in Crowell's Litigation Group in Denver. She has an extensive background in commercial litigation, compliance, and regulatory matters, and has advised clients ranging from individuals to Fortune 100 companies. Gonzales has experience in federal and state courts in matters involving class actions, contracts, false advertising and unfair competition, trade secrets, torts, and complex commercial litigation. She also has experience representing clients in employment disputes, including enforcing non-solicitation and non-compete agreements.
