Crowell & Moring Recognized by Latinvex as #2 in Trade Work Among International Law Firms Serving Latin America

Firm Ranked #10 in FCPA & Fraud category; #29 in Arbitration; and #57 among 70 firms overall

Washington – September 5, 2017: Crowell & Moring LLP is the #2 international law firm in trade serving Latin America, according to Latinvex, a leading publisher of business and legal news about the region. The firm is ranked #10 in the FCPA & Fraud category, as well as #29 in Arbitration. Overall, Crowell & Moring is #57 among the 70 global firms for their legal work in Latin America.

Latinvex made its selections based on a combination of factors, including value, prominence and scope of work, and client and peer references.

Crowell & Moring represents clients in Latin America and the Caribbean on issues including international arbitration, corporate, finance, international trade, and policy issues. The firm regularly advises clients on issues under international and regional trade conventions, such as the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), the Central America-Dominican Republic-U.S. Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA-DR), as well as bilateral free trade agreements between the United States and Colombia, Panama, and other countries. Crowell & Moring has advised clients on wind, solar, hydroelectric, oil and gas, and other infrastructure and power projects in Argentina, Barbados, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Mexico, and Peru.

The firm also advises on anti-money laundering and sanctions issues across Latin America. The firm works closely with its international policy and regulatory affairs affiliate, C&M International, to represent clients whose interests in Latin America and the Caribbean require the cooperation of government agencies and international organizations, including the United Nations, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the U.S. Department of State, the U.S. Department of Justice, and national governments throughout the region.

Latinvex publishes daily news and weekly analysis on Latin America business and provides extensive coverage of Latin America's legal, technology, and energy sectors.
