Three Crowell & Moring Practices Recognized as Law360 Practice Groups of the Year

Government Contracts, International Trade, and Transportation Groups Honored for 2020

Washington – November 30, 2020: Crowell & Moring’s Government Contracts, International Trade, and Transportation practices have been selected as Law360 2020 Practice Groups of the Year. The teams received the award for accomplishments in the last year, including work done related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

“We are thrilled to receive Practice Group of the Year recognition from Law360 for three of our practices,” said Philip T. Inglima, chair of the firm. “In a challenging year, our entire firm stepped up to continue delivering top-notch service to our clients as their businesses changed rapidly, seemingly overnight.”

For more than 40 years, Crowell & Moring’s Government Contracts Group has set the standard for legal guidance in this highly complex arena. Today, the firm has one of the largest and most reputable government contracts practices in the United States and worldwide. This year is the eleventh consecutive year that Law360 has recognized the group with the Practice Group of the Year designation.

In a complex global environment, Crowell & Moring’s International Trade Group provides practical, sophisticated advice and cross-disciplinary counsel. With experienced lawyers practicing around the globe, the firm is well-positioned to provide dispute resolution and litigation counsel on emerging trade issues worldwide. With this year presenting unique challenges to the trade landscape, Crowell & Moring has been at the forefront of counseling producers, importers, and exporters on the evolving nature of the pandemic.

Crowell & Moring’s Transportation Practice delivers results-driven legal counsel to domestic and international clients from across the transportation industry, including transportation infrastructure and equipment manufacturers, micro-mobility retailers, and providers of aerospace, aviation, automobile, rail, maritime, logistics, and trucking services. This year, work in the transportation industry took on new importance as clients turned to the firm to help pivot their operations in response to the pandemic. Companies revamped their factory lines and raised their hand to help the country through the crisis—becoming government contractors, mask manufacturers, and much more—in a short period of time.

Law360 will publish individual profiles of each practice in the coming weeks. To see the full list of Law360 2020 Practice Groups of the Year, visit here.
