

Tax

Crowell & Moring provides federal and state tax advice and representation in business transactions, controversies, and litigation to domestic and foreign corporations and joint ventures. Our practice encompasses all U.S. tax aspects of business dealings and all administrative and litigation forums. Our clients include public and private businesses of all types, from Fortune 500 companies to small businesses in emerging industries.

Our lawyers have deep knowledge of tax law, all aspects of IRS and state administrative proceedings, and tax litigation. We are recognized among the top legal practitioners. Our clients benefit from our prior experience in positions with the Department of Justice Tax Division, the Treasury Department Office of Tax Legislative Counsel, and the Office of Management and Budget.

We are particularly well known for tax controversy and litigation, tax planning for corporate and financing transactions, international tax, accounting methods, partnership tax, and employee benefits and executive compensation.

We believe in building long-term strategic partnerships with our clients, and have developed close relationships with great companies. We invest in client relationships, making it our mission to know our client's business, and are committed to providing creative, long-term solutions to complex tax problems in a cost-effective manner.
