✔ Getting to grips with the new regulation: Feedback from regulatory affairs managers on getting products to market under the new system

✔ Understanding the changing requirements for safety data - what and how much information is required: Target animal safety guidelines, higher tier risk assessments, user safety assessments and residue studies, pharmacovigilance data and inspections

✔ In depth analysis of the patent system

✔ Legal feature session - Real life case studies on recent litigation, analysis of the outcomes and the potential future impact of such decisions

✔ Must attend parallel import briefing - Latest feedback from real life cases

Pre Conference Workshop - 2 July 2007

Patent Law and Practice in Veterinary Medicines

An intensive one-day course designed to provide a detailed analysis of patent law in Europe. Course highlights include:

- Introduction to patent law
- Standards for patentability
- Terms of patent protection
- Patent infringement
- Licensing
- Patent Rights
- Challenging patent validity
- Patent specifications as sources of information

Course Leader: Noel Akers, NJ Akers & Co Ltd

Book Before Friday 27 April 2007 and save up to £200
Session 1: Introduction to Patent Law
The first session introduces the concept of a patent and sets out the nature of a patent as a legal right. To place the modern practice of patent law into perspective, the history of the major patent systems around the world is summarised. Finally, this session reviews the major national, regional and international laws, conventions and treaties governing patents, completing the groundwork for the following sessions.

Session 2: Standards for Patentability
It is essential to understand what can and cannot be protected by a patent. Session 2 reviews the law relating to patentability and the exceptions to patentable inventions, in particular the patenting of new uses of known compounds, an area in which veterinary medicine inventions have helped shape the law. The session concludes by reviewing the standards of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability required in order to obtain a valid patent for a veterinary medicine product.

Session 3: Term of Patent Protection
This session will review the term of patent protection afforded by the law and the possibilities for patent term extensions under the Supplementary Protection Certificate (SPC) provisions in Europe. An understanding of these provisions is essential for a generic company looking to market a patented product after the patent term has expired.

Session 4: Patent Infringement
Patents are an enforceable legal right and knowing how and when to combat infringers is important in realising the full value of that right. Session 4 covers patent infringement, what constitutes infringement, Bolar Exception from infringement, enforcing patent rights, and the remedies available against infringers. This session will also look at the doctrine of exhaustion of rights as it affects patent infringement in Europe, a key aspect of patent law for generics companies in the EU.

Session 5: Licensing Patent Rights
Patents are business assets and their commercial exploitation often requires licensing to be undertaken. To realize the full potential of a patent portfolio, an understanding of licensing is essential. This session reviews the licensing of patent rights, the governing laws and regulations, royalty payments and the form of licensing agreements.

Session 6: Challenging Patent Validity
The patents of others can represent major obstacles to your freedom to conduct your business. Accordingly, knowing how to challenge the validity of competitor patents and remove that obstacle is very valuable. Session 6 covers invalidating patents, the grounds for invalidity and the manner in which validity can be challenged.

Session 7: Patent Specifications as Sources of Information
Patent specifications are a valuable source of technical information. This session looks at the ways in which patent information can help your business, in terms of developing new and improved technology and also monitoring the activities of others.

Course Leader: Noël J. Akers
Noël is a Chartered Patent Attorney and European Patent Attorney. He is also a Registered Trade Mark Agent in the UK and admitted to practice before the European Community Trade Mark Office. He graduated from the University of Nottingham with a degree in Chemical Engineering, before qualifying in the patent and trade mark profession. Noël has worked with a number of international corporations and law firms. In particular, he spent a considerable length of time practicing European patent law in the United States, where he was involved in a series of major patent litigation cases with actions in both Europe and the US. As a consequence, Noël developed a speciality in coordinating patent procurement and litigation in cases involving actions in the US and Europe.

Noël has acted as an expert on European patent law and provided expert testimony in a number of US patent litigation cases, in particular provided evidence on aspects of patentability under European patent law and the law of privilege in the UK.

Immediately prior to establishing N.J. Akers & Co., Noël was a partner with Howrey, a major US law firm, managing the patent department of its London Office.

A Representative, Hogan and Hartson, LLP, Belgium

14.30 Parallel Import: A Legal Perspective
- Human vs. veterinary parallel trade
- IP-aspects vs. regulatory aspects
- Selection of landmark and recent case law EC (freedom of movement)
- "Kohlpharma" - MRP still required for generics?
- New legal basis - article 65(4) Directive 2001/82/EC

Kristoof Roox, Partner, Crowell and Moring, Belgium

15.00 Afternoon Tea

15.30 Recent Litigation in Veterinary Medicines: Lessons Learnt and Potential Impacts
The case law of the European Court of Justice has traditionally played the role of clarifying and interpreting EU legislation. However, the recent modifications to the Community Code demonstrate a reverse of this tradition. The European Commission acknowledged that the amendments to the provisions of the Code concerning generic products were influenced by the case law of the Court in this area. This session examines questions raised before the Court in a number of areas. Would the attendees have arrived at the same decision as the Court had they been hearing the case?

Noel J Akers, Principal and Founder; N J Akers & Co, UK

16.30 Panel – Discussions on the Main Strategies Employed for the Defence of Innovative Products and Attacks for Generic Companies
- Elisabethann Wright, Counsel, Hogan and Hartson, LLP, Belgium
- Kristoof Roox, Partner, Crowell and Moring, Belgium
- Noel J Akers, Principal and Founder, N J Akers & Co, UK

17.00 End of Conference

This years “Veterinary Medicines: Generics, Patents and Parallel Import” conference comes at a critical point as companies start to experience the practicalities of working with the new directive and feel the pressure of remaining compliant with the new regulatory guidelines for off patent products. We have once again developed a programme that addresses the needs of the industry and promises to be “the must attend event” for business professionals looking to increase market share and stay one step ahead of the competition in the animal health generics industry.

5 Key reasons to attend

1. The only event to present authority and industry opinions
First hand information and practical advice from: Eurovet Animal Health • Wockhardt Ltd • Dr Reddy’s Laboratories Limited • Channelle Pharmaceuticals Manufacturing Ltd • BVL • Irish Medicines Board • Danish Medicines Agency • Hungarian Directorate of Veterinary Medicinal Products • Bulgarian Institute for Control of VMP • VMD

2. Essential new information and interactive format:
23 information packed sessions provide practical information for delegates to take away and apply whilst dedicated Q&A sessions and informal networking provide an opportunity to get answers and potential solutions to some of the challenges that companies face.

3. Get answers to and debate the most topical issues
✓ What are the current challenges and future prospects for the generics industry?
✓ How are member states making use of provisions for the registration of generic products under the new directive?
✓ What are the real life experiences of regulatory affairs managers of working with the new legislation?
✓ What will be the impact of the changes in data requirements for the generics industry?
✓ What do generics companies really need to know about pharmacovigilance?
✓ What is the current situation with regards to the patent system, Bolar provisions, global authorisations and parallel import?

4. New for 2007- Choice of 2 Conference Symposia: Maximise your time away from the office by taking advantage of our add on symposia
Pre-Conference Workshop – Patent Law and Practice in Veterinary Medicines
Evening Seminar – Practical Advice on How to Submit Generic Applications in the USA

5. Unrivalled Networking Opportunities: Share and benefit from the experiences of over 80 participants from 19 countries representing Europe, North America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East in 2006. Make more business contacts – network with delegates from the co-located conference “Strategic Alliances in the Animal Health Industry” and take part in the free speed networking sessions

4 Easy Ways to Save Money on Your Registration

You can save money if:
1. You represent an academic or not for profit organisation
2. You are travelling from a new member state or accession country
3. You wish to attend more than one add on symposium
4. You are attending the event with colleagues (substantial group discounts)
