SCHEDULE:

8:30 – 9:00 Registration Coffee and Tea upon arrival

9:00 – 9:15 Opening Remarks by Conference Co-Chairs Ian A. Laird and Todd Weiler

9:15 – 10:45 SESSION I - The Inherent Authority of an ICSID Tribunal – What is the Limit?

The fundamental basis of ICSID arbitration is the consent between the parties embodied in the Convention and other instruments of consent, such as international investment agreements or arbitration clauses. However, in the absence of specific consent, tribunals frequently take upon themselves wide powers of authority to conduct an ICSID arbitration. What are the limits of this “inherent” authority? And, is there a principled basis that can be identified to support it?

Moderator: Tim Nelson, Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP

Authors: Martins Paparinskis, Post Doctoral Fellow, Oxford University; Constantinos Salonidis, Foley Hoag LLP

Panelists: Antonio Parra, Former Secretary General of ICCA; Wendy Miles, Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP; Nigel Blackaby, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP; Mara Senn, Arnold & Porter LLP

10:45 – 11:00 Coffee/Tea Break

11:00 – 12:30 SESSION II - “Investment” under the ICSID Convention – Have We Moved Beyond Salini?

The proper interpretation of the term “investment” under the ICSID Convention and applicable international investment agreements has been the battleground for heated debate about the jurisdiction of ICSID tribunals in recent arbitral awards. The tension between state sovereignty and rule of law manifests itself in the conflict over such definitions and will continue to be a point of contention for novices and experts alike.

Moderator: Michael Nolan, Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy LLP

Authors: Joshua Fellenbaum, Mannheimer Swartling; Sungjin Kang, Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

Panelists: Stanimir Alexandrov, Sidley Austin LLP; Catherine M. Amirfar, Debevoise & Plimpton LLP; Federico Ortino, Kings College London; Miriam Harwood, Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP

12:30 – 13:45 Lunch - will be served in the Senate Room

Luncheon Speaker: Meg Kinnear, Secretary General, ICSID

13:45 – 15:15 SESSION III - Compliance and Enforcement of Awards – Is There Really a Practical Difference between ICSID and ad hoc Arbitration?

One of the many benefits of ICSID arbitration has been its delocalized review and enforcement mechanism. However, as certain member states have resisted compliance, some commentators have questioned whether the enforcement of ICSID awards is for practical purposes different from ad hoc arbitration. Our authors and panelists provide their critical analysis on this key issues.

Moderator: Baiju Vasani, Crowell & Moring LLP

Authors: Freya Baetens, Associate Professor of Law, University of Leiden; Sylvia Tordova, White and Case, LLP

Panelists: Margrete Stevens, King & Spalding; Philippe Pinsolle, Shearman & Sterling LLP; Chris Gibson, Suffolk University Law School; Marco E. Schnabl, Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP; Borzu Sabahi, Fulbright & Jaworski LLP

15:15 – 15:30 Coffee/Tea Break

15:30 – 17:00 SESSION IV - Appeal versus Annulment: Is the ICSID Annulment Process Working or Is it Now Time for an Appellate Mechanism?

The decisions of recent ICSID ad hoc Annulment Committees, such as in Sempra v. Argentina, have revived questions concerning the exact scope of the standard of review exercised by those Committees. If the standard of review is moving to one closer to an appeal standard, should ICSID itself not revive its efforts to an open appeal mechanism? Arguments are presented by our authors and panelists as to whether now is the time for a change at ICSID regarding the review of arbitral awards.

Moderator: Jeffrey Rosenthal, Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

Authors: Silvia Marchili, King & Spalding; Claire Stockford, Crowell & Moring LLP

Panelists: Gonzalo Flores, Senior Counsel, ICSID; John Fellas, Hughes, Hubbard & Reed LLP; Sabine Konrad, K&L Gates LLP; Oscar Garibaldi, Covington & Burling LLP

17:00 - 18:00 Cocktail Reception

The Czech Yearbook of International Law (CYIL) is an annual work representing leading scholarship in both a comparative and international law context from the Czech Republic and countries of Central and Eastern Europe. The CYIL is focused on such issues as international treaties in the context of EU law, international contractual relations, protection of international human rights, international criminal law, investment protection and international arbitration. It brings together articles of professionals who offer unique insight into how these special legal issues are regulated in European legal culture and its legal connotations from both the comparative and international law perspective. The CYIL includes articles as well as book reviews, notes and information and overviews of scholarship in the field of international law, written by leading authorities from the Czech Republic, the surrounding region and the wider international legal community. Authors include academicians, attorneys, justice staff, and practitioners in the field of international law. The CYIL represents an ongoing annual review and analysis of major issues involving public and private international law, including related aspects of European and constitutional law. The integrity of this collection is ensured by the Editorial and Advisory Boards, which are composed of prominent practitioners and scholars from the local, regional and international legal communities.

Czech (& Central European) Yearbook of Arbitration (CYArb)

– Central and Eastern Europe, on which this book focuses (though not exclusively) is steeped in the Roman tradition of continental Europe, where arbitration is based on the autonomy of the parties and informal procedure. This classical approach is somewhat different from the principle on which the system of arbitration in countries with a common-law tradition is built. The CYArb project aims to help address this issue and provide a forum for comparisons of arbitration practice and doctrine in different countries, both mutually and in relation to other international practices. It sheds light on practical and academic fields in those countries in order to compare domestic approaches to arbitration and to provide a comparison with broader European and international practices.
