Portfolio Media. Inc. | 860 Broadway, 6th Floor | New York, NY 10003 | www.law360.com
Phone: +1 646 783 7100 | Fax: +1 646 783 7161 | customerservice@law360.com

Law360 Tax Editorial Advisory Board

Law360, New York (February 24, 2016, 11:45 PM ET) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2016 Tax editorial advisory board.

The purpose of the editorial advisory board is to get feedback on Law360's coverage and to gain insight from experts in the field on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of the 2016 Tax Law360 editorial advisory board are:

Richard Husseini, Baker Botts LLP
Richard Husseini, a partner with Baker Botts in its Houston office, chairs the firmwide tax department. His practice is focused primarily on federal tax controversy and litigation. He advocates on behalf of large companies and high-net-worth individuals nationwide in administrative, arbitration and court proceedings, with a particular focus on taxpayers in the energy and technology sectors.

Jennifer Ray, Crowell & Moring LLP
Jennifer A. Ray is a partner in Crowell & Moring's tax group in Washington, D.C. She advises clients across a number of industries on tax aspects of corporate and partnership transactions, tax planning matters and executive compensation and employee benefit issues.

Melissa Wiley, Ernst & Young LLP
Melissa Wiley is an assistant general counsel at Ernst & Young LLP in Washington, D.C., where she supports the firm's tax practice with respect to a wide variety of tax-related issues. Prior to joining EY, Wiley was an attorney at Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom LLP, where she focused her practice on tax litigation and controversy matters.

Michael S. Fried, Fried & Rosefelt LLC
Michael Fried is one of the founding members of Fried & Rosefelt LLC, a law firm focused on representing taxpayers. Fried has an LL.M. in tax from New York University Law School and has three decades of experience helping clients solve their U.S. and international tax problems. He has been published in leading national tax publications and frequently speaks to professional organizations about current tax issues.

Steven Horowitz, Horowitz and Rubenstein LLC
Steven A. Horowitz is a member of Horowitz and Rubenstein LLC, a law firm whose practice focuses on all areas of taxation, tax planning for closely held businesses and their shareholders, estate planning, business succession planning for small and medium-sized businesses, life insurance and asset protection planning, including private placement life insurance and offshore tax and estate planning using life insurance. Horowitz was a regular contributing author and columnist for CCH Taxes, The Tax Magazine from 1999 to 2006.

Jordan M. Goodman, Horwood Marcus & Berk Chtd.
Jordan M. Goodman co-chairs Horwood Marcus & Berk Chtd.'s state and local tax group. Goodman resolves state and local tax controversies for multistate and multinational corporations, including Fortune 1000 clients with complex operations, in industries such as manufacturing, retail, telecommunications, utilities and energy. Goodman has successfully resolved tax controversies in virtually every state and counsels businesses on the tax ramifications and benefits of various organizational structures.

Dennis Rimkunas, Jones Day
Dennis Rimkunas is a partner in Jones Day's New York office, practicing in the state and local tax area. Rimkunas provides sophisticated tax planning and strategic advice on diligence issues, taxability and structuring for corporate reorganizations. He regularly assists clients with state tax audits and controversies and has extensive experience working and negotiating with the various taxing authorities.

Elizabeth Atkinson, LeClairRyan
Elizabeth Atkinson focuses her practice on federal, state, local and international taxation and employee benefit matters with emphasis on tax controversy, employment tax issues and tax and benefits planning. She also practices entertainment law with a focus on tax issues. She advises employers on the tax and Employee Retirement Income Security Act implications of employee benefit programs, including compliance with the Affordable Care Act, taxable and nontaxable fringe benefit plans, multiemployer plans and plan filings and issues involving claims against fiduciaries of plans.

Aaron Borden, Meadows Collier Reed Cousins Crouch & Ungerman LLP
Aaron Borden is an associate attorney at Meadows Collier Reed Cousins Crouch & Ungerman in Dallas. He represents taxpayers preassessment in sensitive state and federal audits and examinations. He also litigates tax disputes post-assessment in state administrative hearings, U.S. Tax Court and in U.S. district courts.

Christine E. Bromberg, Robinson + Cole LLP
Christine Bromberg is a partner in Robinson + Cole's tax group. She represents clients, including domestic and foreign corporations, partnerships and limited liability companies, in connection with domestic and international tax matters with particular emphasis on mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, workouts, recapitalizations, divestitures and spinoffs and all forms of capital-raising activities.

Mary McNulty, Thompson & Knight LLP
Mary McNulty is a tax partner in Thompson & Knight's Dallas office. She represents taxpayers in Internal Revenue Service audits, appeals and tax litigation, focusing on federal tax procedural issues and partnership audits. She also has expertise in partnership tax issues, including in the energy and real estate industries.

Joseph A. Riley, Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Joseph A. Riley is a partner in Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP's tax department. He specializes in the taxation of investment funds, including mutual funds, closed-end funds, hedge funds and offshore funds. His practice includes taxation of securities and derivatives, international tax advising, the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, tax reporting for investors in investment funds, IRS assistance and other associated tax issues faced by asset managers.